ARCHER'S "CALL LOANS."

MARYLAND'S TREASURER'S STYLE OF PETTY DEALINGS.

Showing Up the Reckless Habits of This "Napoleon of Finance"—How He Hoodwinked Bankers and Brokers—The "Last Straw"—Suspicion—Discovery—Disgrace.

BALTIMORE, April 5.—The legislative committee appointed to inquire into the falsification of State Treasurer Archer, resumed work to-day. Bank officers and brokers who have business transactions with Mr. Archer, testified to the making loans, the collateral being securities which proved to belong to the State, but no one at the time thought the State held such securities.

The committee has found this much about the missing $127,000, that since 1887 Mr. Archer has been in the habit of borrowing, either on his notes or at a "call loan," from $1,000 to $4,500 at various periods, and depositing as collateral bonds of the treasury relief loan, Frederick City 4 per cent., or bonds of the Baltimore and Ohio car trust. He has renewed his notes frequently; has paid little or no attention to them when matured, and has even told the officers of banks, when they asked that his accounts be properly settled, that they had, in the State securities held by them, their own protection. For three years Mr. Archer followed this style of petty dealing with city banks.

It was only when he essayed to borrow money in the Merchants' National Bank and had carried on the note-receiving business beyond the patience of the officers of the bank, that he met a questioning spirit. President Douglas H. Thomas had loaned money to Mr. Archer on two Frederick City 4 per cent. notes, and the State treasurer kept letting the note run until, in the language of President Thomas, "The bank requested him to pay it."

At last President Thomas, upon investigation, found that two of the securities held by the bank bore the same number as two in the State's keeping. Suspicion became a certainty. He communicated with Comptroller Baughman, the latter talked with the Governor, and the Executive message of March 25 astonished the State.

SITTING BULL'S HATRED

Again Manifested Toward the Government and White Men.

ST. PAUL, MINN., April 5.—A special to the Pioneer Press from Pierre, S. D., says: A great and final Indian pow-wow and dance is being held to-night five miles from here over on the reservation. The Sioux have been gathering at that point two or three days, and to-day they have been having a big meeting, which to-night was changed to a great dance. These dances have in the past been held at regular intervals, but this is the last one held on the reservation before the tribes leave for their new headquarters.

For that reason the dance is a monster one, the largest gathering of the Sioux held for years, and the zest with which the braves enter into their wild and weird dance to-night is unequalled since the time of the Sioux War. All the noted chiefs are there.

Sitting Bull and the rest of the chiefs took the opposite side of the question. Bull expressed his hatred of the Government and of whites, and said that only squaws should work, and that he and his small band would still take their provisions from the Government.

A big discussion was held whether the Indians had best take up lands in severalty, or all go back to the lands which are left them. John G. Ross, the noted Sioux orator, made an earnest and touching speech, in which he urged the Sioux to be men, and not squaws, and earn their living, and not get their life and being from the Government.

The result of the meeting was a decision not to take up lands, but to go back upon the new reservation and let the Government continue issuing rations.

Only a few squaw men and half breeds will now go to farming, or take up their lands, as allowed in the Sioux bill.

Little Rhody's Political Troubles.

NEWPORT, R. I., April 5.—The supplementary election to-day for first and fourth representatives resulted in the election of two Democrats, William P. Clarke by 73 majority and Andrew K. Quinn by 33 majority. It is possible that the election is not legal, as it was held under the old voting system instead of under the provisions of the new ballot law. If the House of Representatives is Democratic, as it probably is, the Democrats will not likely raise the issue, but the Republicans may appeal to the Supreme Court to decide as to their legality.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 5.—Supplementary elections to-day bring the Legislature to stand at forty-seven Republicans and forty-four Democrats. There are seventeen members yet to be elected, and by these the Republicans need seven to carry the grand committee.

Billiards—Slosson Beats Catton.

CHICAGO, April 5.—The billiard tournament at Central Mitchell, in which Schaefer, Maurice Daly, and other celebrities are to participate, opened to-night before an audience of 3,000 people. The evening was devoted to a game between Slosson and Catton, the former playing 500 points to Catton's 250. Slosson played admirably and won with ease. The score: Slosson's average, 25; Catton's average, 6.25.

A. A. U. Tug-of-War.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The second tournament for the Amateur Athletic Union light-weight tug-of-war-championship of the United States resulted to-night in a victory for the Acorn Athletic Club. The Yale team was obliged to withdraw, an objection to its professional was made. The competing teams were Princeton, which was second; the Berkeley, Star, and English-America.

FAMILY POISONED BY A SERVANT GIRL. CHICAGO, April 5.—George E. Newland, acutic of Englewood, died suddenly this morning. His wife has since died and their daughter is now seriously ill at the same place from the effects of poison that it is thought was administered to them last evening. A servant girl, Emma Stark, who has since disappeared, is suspected of the crime.

DALZELL AGAINST QUAY.

The Pittsburgh Congressman Throws Down the Glove Publicly.

Congressman Dalzell has at last declared war against Senator Quay, and yesterday the Pittsburgh Representative came out flatfooted in an interview and announced that he was for any man for Governor who was anti-Quay. This declaration is not a surprise to the Pennsylvania Republicans, for it has been anticipated for some time. The wonder has been that Dalzell did not throw down the gauntlet ere this, but now that he has expressed himself the country may prepare for some lively Keystone-State politics. Mr. Dalzell is an ardent Republican, and not given to kicking over the party traces, but in this instance it will be found that he is with the best element of the Pennsylvania Republicans who are bent on strangling the "machine" of which Senator Quay is the acknowledged boss.

Mr. Dalzell said to a SUNDAY HERALD reporter yesterday afternoon that he did not care to say more at the time than what he had given out, i. e., that he favored the nomination of Monroth for Governor and next to Monroth any man who represents anti-Quayism. "A Quay candidate cannot," said he, "in my humble opinion, be elected Governor."

A friend of Mr. Dalzell said to the reporter that when the proper time arrived the Pittsburgh Congressman would be heard from in no mistakable voice and that Senator Quay will live to regret the day he plucked the prize fruit from Dalzell's patronage tree.

The Moser Water Color Exhibition.

An important and interesting exhibition of water color paintings, the work of Mr. James Henry Moser, is now on view at Fischer's art store on Fifteenth street. The collection comprises twenty-five pictures, and no one who is an amateur in this branch of art should neglect to see them. Among them are some of the best things Mr. Moser has ever done. "The White House Conservatory," "Peach Blossom Time on the Flats," "Church of the Covenant," "The Monument," "Monsoon—Seashore," "Mt. Vernon," "A Block Sunbeam," "Rock Creek," "Playing Sunday School," "Corn Field by Moonlight," and "Spring Morning—Van Ness Mansion," give an idea of the range of subjects.

Rules of the Homing Pigeon Race.

At a meeting of the Federation of Homing Pigeon Fanciers on Friday night rules were adopted to govern the contest of homing pigeons for the scarf-pin donated by Voigt & Haas on May 4, 1890, or the first clear day thereafter. The course will be from Orange, Va., to Washington. Air-line distance, seventy-five miles. Birds competing must belong to a member of the federation. Entries must be made on or before April 11. The bird making the best average speed per minute wins the pin. All birds competing must be delivered to the corner market and race secretary at the headquarters of the federation Saturday morning, May 3, 1890, not later than 8 o'clock.

Fall River Steamer in Collision.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 5.—The steamer Providence of the Fall River line was struck by an unknown schooner at 9:30 last night when off Stratford on her way to Fall River. The schooner's jibboom plunged into her side just forward of the starboard paddlewheel. Rebounding, she struck again, carrying away part of the wheel-house. The jibboom tore into a state-room occupied by two Boston men, who however, were not injured. Capt. Davis put back and offered assistance, but the schooner proceeded, having suffered only the loss of her jibboom.

Minister Arrested for Bigamy.

OLEAN, N. Y., April 5.—Rev. John Dougherty Wood, who has for some time acted as Methodist minister at Port Allegany, Pa., was arrested here last night, as he was passing through the city, on a charge of bigamy, preferred by Mrs. Alice Wood, of Phillipsburg, N. J., wife No. 1, who claims that Wood married Ida Bell Mann at Buffalo last December, and has been living with her since. Alice was married to Wood on December 25, 1888. Wood is in custody awaiting bail.

Defaulting Cashier Decamped.

KANSAS CITY, April 5.—John B. Price, formerly head book-keeper of Hall & Willis, wholesale hardware, has left for parts unknown. An examination of his accounts shows him to be a defaulter. The defalcation extends over a period of several years. A member of the firm says he does not think it will exceed $4,000, but it is stated on different authority that the amount is $11,000.

Cerneau Scottish Rite Victory.

CEDEAR RAPID, April 5.—In the famous Cerneau Scottish Rite case against the Grand Lodge of Iowa, Judge Preston yesterday overruled a motion of the defense to throw the suit out of court on the alleged ground that the court has no jurisdiction in the matter, the Cerneau Scottish Rite not being an incorporated body. The Cerneaus consider this a decisive victory.

THEY PLAY GOOD BALL.

THE WASHINGTONS DEFEAT THE HAMILTONS IN A GOOD GAME.

The Score Was Rather Extensive, But the Boys Showed Their Mettle to the Satisfaction of a Good-Sized and Enthusiastic Audience.

There were about 500 people at Atlantic Park yesterday afternoon to witness the game between the Washingtons and the Hamiltons, of Canada. If the game had been properly advertised there would have been many more in attendance. The home management will have to bear this in mind if they desire to draw large crowds at the new park. The grounds were not in condition for good playing, being rough and uneven, while in the extreme right field there was a pool of water that made it disagreeable for the boys. Then, too, the grand stand was not in shape for occupancy, and the ladies present had to be satisfied with the "bleachers," thereby adding temporary tone to those localities.

Those present witnessed a first-class batting game in every respect. The good, square hits to the outfield were many, and many of them came at opportune moments when the bases were filled. It was, therefore, a game that interested the spectators, and the fine stick work of the home team caused considerable pleasure to those who for the first time saw them play. The Washingtons placed Maloney and Riddle in as their battery; but in the first inning the "Kanucks" took too kindly to the Kid's straight balls and by five good solid hits made four runs, all of which were earned. This was rather dampening on the spectators; but Uncle Billy Gleason yelled, "Play ball," and in the second inning the boys followed it up by scoring two runs on Whistler's collision with a pitched ball, Hill's three bagger, and Bird's good, solid rap to left. This enthused the localities considerably, and in the next inning they went to work and by some of the prettiest batting seen here at any time they secured five runs and took the lead, much to the disgust of the Canadians.

The lead thus secured they augmented in each subsequent inning and the home admirers were considerably elated at the way the boys were playing. In the eighth inning the Hamiltons made a rally after a chance had been refused by Whistler to retire the side, for after that they pounded Phillips' delivery at will and made six runs, none being earned on account of Whistler's error. Taken as a whole, the game was creditable, as the Washingtons not only played a splendid batting game, but showed the spectators that they could field as well as the best of them. The stick work of Hill was phenomenal. Twice he came to the bat with men on each base, and twice he showed himself the right man, for he cleared the bases by long hits for extra bases. Bird showed also that he knew how to bat, as he hit a home run, the first home run hit of the year over the fence. Gleason batted strong and good, while his clean fielding was a feature of the game. Bader made the record of the day, as his catch of a long hit ball to center-field fence in the last inning was a star performance and merited the applause given. Abner Powell put up a good game for the visitors, while the score will show that in that team there are also some excellent players. Phil Baker umpired in good style, despite the fact the visitors were constantly kicking at him.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 5.—The Baltimore team defeated the University of Pennsylvania to-day in an uninteresting game, made so by the Universities. THE PRESIDENT'S KIND HEART.

Mr. Harrison Acts as the Good Fairy in a Pretty Little Story.

The President has played the part of the good fairy in a little incident which has something of a romantic element in it. Over twenty years ago there came to this country from Surrey, England, a man named Robert Brown, with two sons named Horace and David Brown. Correspondence between the Browns in America and the Browns in England fell into arrears, and letters became few and far between.

Recently Brown's sister, in England, became anxious about her brother and endeavored to communicate with him again, but failed. So the other day, as a last resort, she wrote to the President of the United States, the only person in America whose address she knew, and asked him if he would not kindly try and help her to find her brother. When last heard from she said he and his two sons were in or about Boston. President Harrison did not throw the letter into the waste basket, as many a President would have done, but took the trouble to forward it to the Mayor of Boston, with a request that if not too much trouble he might have a search made for the lady's brother.

The President has received a reply from Mayor Hart, saying that Robert Brown died some years ago, but his two sons, David and Horace, are well-known and reputable citizens of Boston, in good circumstances.

If the lady had thought of writing to one of her nephews her letters would probably have been delivered; but her brother being dead, her letters addressed to him were all returned through the Dead-Letter Office, marked "Gone, no address."

The President's communication to the lady will carry its share of sorrow, but it will be some satisfaction to her to be relieved of her painful doubt and longings about her brother, and to be restored to communication with her lost nephews by the President of the United States. And President Harrison has given ample proof on recent occasions that he is a very tender and skillful hand at imparting even the most disagreeable news.

Cloud-Burst in New York.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 5.—A cloud-burst near here last night caused freshets in southern and eastern sections of the county, carrying away many bridges and a dam to the upper reservoir of the city water works. The lower section of this city was inundated to an extent precluding the passage of trains on the Lehigh Valley, Delaware and Hudson, and Western, and Lake Shore until noon to-day. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western bridge, near Caroline Station, was washed out and the channel was widened to a chasm ninety feet wide, but travel is not impeded, as passengers are transported around the gulf. The waters are now subsiding.

Suicide of a Prominent Chicagoan.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Marcus G. Stearns, one of Chicago's oldest and wealthiest residents, attempted suicide at his handsome Michigan-avenue residence to-day. He fired four bullets into his head, producing wounds from which recovery is impossible. One shot fired into the mouth almost split the tongue in two. For some time Mr. Stearns has been in depressed spirits. It is surmised that his depression was due to the recent death of his favorite daughter, the wife of ex-Mayor Carter H. Harrison. Mr. Stearns was one of the leading members of the Board of Trade, and has an estate worth perhaps $1,500,000.

England's Policy Criticized.

LONDON, April 5.—Sir Ammanuel Baker, the well-known African explorer, has written a letter indicting the British government for its policy, which he declares has led to the loss of all the positions gained in Africa by the enterprise of intrepid Englishmen. He justifies the alliance between Emin Pasha and Maj. Wissmann, and says it was only natural that Emin should join the German government expedition, which will never initiate the fatal example of the English forces of advancing only to retreat.

Dom Pedro's Critical Illness.

CANSAE, April 5.—The illness from which Dom Pedro, the deposed Emperor of Brazil, is suffering has assumed a critical phase. He was in a comatose state during the greater part of yesterday. His condition was so serious that it was deemed necessary to administer the last sacrament of the Church. To-day, however, he revived, and is improving. Professor Charcot has left here for Paris.

Senator Stanford's Purposes.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Senator Leland Stanford, who arrived here from Washington to-day, stated in an interview that after remaining in California a month he will return to Washington, and from there go to some of the bathing resorts in Germany for the benefit of his health. The Senator also stated that he had notified his associates in the Southern Pacific Company to expect his resignation as president of that company soon.

CHESTERSTOWN, Md., April 5.—The Methodist Protestant Conference continued its session to-day. A missionary for Baltimore was appointed, and Mr. G. M. Holloway was recommended for ordination to-morrow. The faculty of instruction recommended fourteen applicants for aid. Messrs. H. S. Johnson, Quincy L. Morrow, and Clayton McAllister were commended to the itinerancy.

Hurled Over a Precipice.

PITTSBURGH, April 5.—While Mack Steele, aged about nineteen, and Sammie, a seven-year-old son of R. A. Dornon, of New Alexandria, were hauling rubbish, their horse backed the wagon in which they were seated over the precipice, fifty feet high, and they were hurled to the bottom. Young Dornon was killed and Steele internally injured. The wagon was smashed, but the horse escaped without much injury.

Maryland Mills Shut Down.

ELKTON, Md., April 5.—The McCullough Company's sheet-iron mills at West Amwell have shut down for want of orders. The mills of the company at North East are expected to do likewise. The mills are not extensive affairs.

THE MISSISSIPPI FLOOD.

THE DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY IS FRIGHTFUL.

Loss of Many Lives Also Apprehended—Great Crevasse at Catfish Point—Plantations Ruined—Hundreds of Houses Washed Away—Thousands Homeless.

NEW ORLEANS, April 5.—The Picayune's Arkansas City special says: Yesterday as soon as news of a break at Catfish Point reached here the Government steamers Speed and Graham took several barges to that point and brought away about 150 people and their effects, also a lot of stock, etc. Capt. Tollinger, of the Government Survey, is on the ground doing everything he can to save life and property. Those who wish to come will be brought here by the Government boats and quarters provided for them. Parties who visited the scene of the disaster to-day state that the torrent coming out of the opening has about spent its force.

Although this is much the largest break that has yet occurred on the Mississippi side, the territory that will be affected by it will be comparatively small.

Outside of the Catfish Point peninsula, the water from this crevasse will reach but little territory that was not already inundated by the crevasses at Mound, Huntington, and Offutt's, but the destruction of property in this little peninsula is fearful. The plantations who owned the plantations around Catfish Point are almost ruined.

It is estimated that over a hundred houses have been washed away, and there is very little hay, corn, or planting seed left. The planters will be so badly crippled that they will meet with considerable difficulty in making a crop, even if the water recedes in time. The flood has left almost nothing. The whole bend was filled with water as high as that in the river within a few hours after the break occurred.

To-day the back-water broke through the levee at Eutaw Landing in the lower end of the bend, and it is now running back into the river. It is thought that several lives were lost. The outlook is not hopeful for the planting of the overflooded region before May. The newly-planted crops were drowned out.

There is this consolation, that if the levees have gone to pieces in spots it took the highest water on record to do it. The highest point has not been touched at Cairo, but in duration of flood heights—the true test—1890, takes a precedence over all recent years, no year of which we have full record but 1892 compares with it. For illustration, water passed above 40 at Cairo this year March 3, and will not, it is safe to say, go below that state before April 15. Forty-three days of such a state at Cairo is unprecedented. In 1882 it was reached February 20 and passed below March 21, or lasted twenty-nine days. The average of the Arkansas is about the same for the two years, but there was a phenomenal flood out of the White River this year.

The condition of the upper rivers is not hopeful. Cairo is still standing above forty-eight feet, and there is a rise out of the Arkansas, which will probably check the fall here.

The German Emperor's Army Reforms.

[Copyright by New York Associated Press.] BERLIN, April 5.—The Emperor's solicitude regarding the army is further shown in an imperial order published to-day to the effect that in view of its incompleteness the reserve infantry military officer's system hitherto pursued, which provides that officers must come from the ranks of the nobility, must be extended to include those noble by character, in order that the sons of honorable middle-class families may hold appointments in the Army. The same rule will also apply to the civil service. The Emperor further disapproves the holding of commissions being dependent on the private income of aspirants. At much length he enjoins commanders to set an example of self-sacrifice to officers and to check indulgence in unnecessary luxuries, the habit of making costly presents, and giving frequent banquets, etc.

The Chicago World's Fair Directors.

CHICAGO, April 5.—The recount of the ballots cast yesterday for directors of the World's Fair shows that there was a mistake of about 180 made in the vote of Col. George B. Davis, announced, after that instead of being defeated he received close to the largest number of votes cast for any one.

A Whole Village Destroyed by Fire.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., April 5.—The business section of the village of Theresa, about twenty-five miles from this city, was entirely destroyed by fire this morning. Forty-two buildings were burned, involving a loss of something like $150,000 to $300,000.

W. C. T. U. Raids.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 5.—The delegation of the W. C. T. U., led by Mrs. James Robertson, her daughter Belle, and Mrs. and Miss Harris, continued yesterday the raid on the joints and drugists of Kingman. In one place the ladies discovered a case or two of beer, some whiskey and gin, which they took from the store and dumped into the gutters. No arrests have yet been made.

Steamer Ashore—Going to Pieces.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Up to this afternoon the French steamer Panama, which ran ashore at Jones' Inlet, L. I., early Thursday morning, has not been gotten off, and the wind, by shifting to the southwest to-day, drove the vessel further up on the shore, and it is now feared that the steamer will go to pieces.
